CHARTER GROUP ANSWERS PAULSEN SPEECH DREDGING ACTIVITIES STARTED ON INNER HARBOR

BUILDING OF LEVIES NOW UNDER WAY

Work was started yesterday morning on the dredging program for the widening and deepening of the channel of the Richmond inner harbor.

Representatives of the United Dredging company recently given the bid for the $64,000 job, started the building of levies yesterday morning. Fill stakes were placed and according to the officials, the mud will start to fly in about two weeks.

According to the territory staked out yesterday, ground to be filled in will be from Eighth to Tenth streets and from Tenth to Fourteenth streets and also the Parr-Gilmore property. Silt obtained in the dredging of the channel will be pumped on the property named above, to raise its level.

Contract for the dredging at the inner harbor calls for widening the channel from the outer harbor to Point Protero to 300 feet, 30 feet deep, and the channel from Point Protero to the inner harbor terminal will be widened to 400 feet with a turning basin at the end.

At present this channel is 200 feet wide. Both the city and government will share in the cost of the work. The city, however, will bear a larger portion of the cost as part of the present work is beyond the project now approved by the government.

Another harbor project to be started within a few weeks is the extension of the harbor training wall for a distance of 5,000 feet. The wall is now 3,000 feet long and with the unit to be started shortly, it will be extended to 8,000 feet, which will leave only 2,000 more feet to be constructed. It is expected that this 2,000-foot strip will be built next spring.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—UP.—Sixteen San Diego American Legion officials, politicians and alleged bootleggers were indicted here today by the Federal Grand Jury for conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law during the Legion convention in San Diego last August.

Major Harry R. Hill of San Diego was exonerated in the asserted "fixing" for widespread drinking during the meetings. Among those indicted were Logan S. Huggles, member of the Legion delegation committee and Charles H. Muloch, alleged franchise bootlegger.

The indictments resulted from an extensive investigation by Prohibition Agent C. D. Jocelyn, acting under orders from Prohibition Administrator William Woods, Jr.

The inquest was conducted by Coroner Aubrey Wilson.

Tinneman was riding with three other students on the highway near Pacheco, Nov. 3, when the car skidded from the highway, overturned, and burned. Gerald Neasham, 19, also a university student, was driving the car.

SING SING FELONS HELD IN PRISON BREAK PLOT

OSSINING, N. Y., Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—A desperate plot on the part of at least seven convicts to escape from Sing Sing prison has been frustrated. It was revealed today by Warden Lewis E. Lawes.

Three prisoners have been locked in isolated cells in the death house, and will be kept there; another convict has been transferred to Dannemora, and three others, after a few days in solitary confinement, have been returned to their regular cell houses as a result of the jail break scheme, Warden Lawes said.

Roy Sloane, serving a long term for carrying a concealed weapon; Josepa Piolo, serving a term in connection with the killing of Bill Brennan, boxer, in a New York cabaret; and Edward Ryan, doing 35 years for assault and attempted escape from prison, are the men confined in the deathhouse. Walter Freig, another of the plotters, has been taken to Dannemora.

The scheme, according to the warden, which provided for the smuggling of weapons into the prison, included a plan for opening the cell doors and short circuiting the cell block lighting system. Sloan, Piolo and Ryan were found to be the leaders of the plot, the warden said. Their isolation marks the first time in Sing Sing prison that prisoners doing time were ever confined in death-house cells.

Detective Dies In Gun Battle With Bandits

SPOKANE, Wash. Nov. 13.—UP.—A gun battle between two detectives and two suspected bandits in the close confines of a hotel room ended with the death of Detective Roy Fordyce late today.

Ralph Larson, 23, and Charles Dawes, 20, were arrested and held in the city jail. Larson was said to have fired the fatal shot. The battle started when Detectives Fordyce and George Bradley questioned the pair concerning the possession of an automatic pistol. After Fordyce was shot down, Bradley struck Larson over the head with his revolver and overpowered Dawes.

CALISTOGA BRUSH FIRE BURNED OUT

CALISTOGA, Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—The uncontrolled brush and timber fire which has been raging on the slopes of Mt. St. Helena for the past three days has burned itself out along the Lake county highway five miles from here, according to reports.

Heroic fire fighters, who have been faithfully battling the flames in an effort to save the historic old Toll House, the beautiful summer homes in the vicinity, and a number of resorts in the region, have returned to their homes for a well-earned rest. Since the outbreak on Mt. St. Helena Sunday night, fire is estimated to have swept over 5,000 acres. Starting near the reservoir in northern Sonoma county some weeks ago approximately 50,000 acres have been burned.

It has traveled a distance of 35 miles to within two miles of Calistoga. At the widest point the burned area is reported to be 34 miles across. Smoke from a fire that threatened cherry orchards could be seen from Napa for a short time yesterday afternoon.

After burning 89 acres it was stopped on the edge of the orchard of the Frank Oberli ranch by a force of 100 men.

Yesterday morning for a brief period the Hawkins resort along the Lake county highway was threatened, but the prompt work of many volunteers and three fire trucks which pumped streams of water on the burning brush proved effective.

HOOVER IN FAVOR OF MOVE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—Secretary Mellon, with the approval of President Hoover, will recommend tax reduction to Congress, he announced definitely here tonight.

While final detailed estimates of revenues and expenditures for the fiscal years 1930, and 1931 have not been completed, the secretary said the estimates have reached the point where tax reduction can safely be recommended.

Indications are that business profits, dividends, interest and wage payments in 1929 will considerably exceed those of last year, the secretary said, and estimates indicate that the government should close both the fiscal years 1930 and 1931 with a surplus.

The form of relief to the taxpayers which the treasury's recommendations will probably take will be a one per cent reduction of the normal tax on incomes of individuals and corporations applicable to 1929 incomes and payable in the calendar year 1930, according to the secretary.

It was explained, for instance, that on the first $4,000 of taxable income the rate will be reduced from one and one-half per cent (Continued on Page 5)

WAR SECRETARY SERIOUSLY ILL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—(U.P.)—James William Good, of Iowa, President Hoover's secretary of war, fought for his life tonight in Walter Reed army hospital. A sudden attack of acute appendicitis brought a quick diagnosis and an operation shortly before noon today.

The appendix was found to be perforated, imbedded in the abdomen, and the resulting gangrenous condition caused grave fears to be expressed, although the war secretary late in the afternoon was reported "resting comfortably" with good pulse and heart action.

A bulletin issued at midnight by Good's physicians said that the secretary's condition was about the same, but that he was doing as well as could be expected in view of the seriousness of the operation.

He was "resting fairly comfortably," getting some sleep at different periods, the doctors said, indicating no complications had developed.

The Beauty Shop

By Frances Oliver

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1929

It sounds like the beginning of a lovely romance. But what we have in mind is the beginning of a lovely near-tragedy.

Our heroine is a talented young portrait painter. She lives in a studio high above a great city, and the studio faces the cold consistent north.

Two apples sliced thin. Oven temperature: 425 degrees F. Baking time: About twenty-five minutes.

In Miss DeBoth's method the dry ingredients are sifted together and the wet added to form a stiff batter. The melted shortening is beaten into the batter. A quick and easy method indeed!

Into the sifter measure the cornmeal, the flour, the baking powder and the sugar and sift into the mixing bowl. In a bowl beat the egg and combine with the milk. Slowly melt the fat.

Stir the egg-milk into the dry ingredients to make a stiff batter. Then add the melted shortening and beat until light and well mixed. Pour at once into a greased shallow baking tin and make the surface smooth with a spatula.

Over the surface of the batter interlay the thinly sliced apple, making two rows lengthwise of the pan. Bake in a hot oven for about twenty-five minutes, when the apples will be nicely done and the bread most invitingly good.

Cut or break and serve while piping hot.

The World's Window

By Pierre Van Paassen

Black men and brown men, men with dirty head-wrappings, blind beggars, half-naked urchins, Bedouins with flashing eyes, heavily veiled women who seem no more than walking mummies, colossal camels with hairy flanks, all these multiplied ad infinitum, endless streams of them, push you along elbow, bump, shove, crush and nib you in the native bazaar. It doesn't matter which city you take, Cairo or Jerusalem, Beirut or Damascus.

The scene is pretty well the same everywhere. It differs only in size and dimensions. Cairo is the largest this side of the Himalaya Mountains. The din and clatter is unbelieveable; merchants cackle and argue, sheep bleat and baa. A native policeman blows a whistle to make himself a passage-way. Tiny donkeys supporting gentlemen of immense volume trot perilously over the slippery cobblestones, their legs spreading out in an x-shape.

The shops are mere holes in the wall—dark mysterious places, from which a turbanned or fezbed individual topples like an automatic Jack-in-the-box the moment you enter to inspect some of the wares displayed. Every second place is a cafe or ice cream parlor. All are crowded with disputing and gesticulating Arabs and cool black Abyssinians. Each cafe, refreshment booth, barber shop boasts a huge gramophone. It's of the old screaming, unimproved variety, and bellows from morn till night. It does not appreciably increase the fracas in the bazaar. I doubt if you could hear the rumble of thunder above this infernal bedlam, or even the firing of a battery of cannon.

Passports, Please. Unless one be thoroughly exasperated with all the passports and visa nonsense flourishing in Europe, it is quite an amusing game. It also gives a lot of people something to do, which is an important consideration for a man of humanitarian feelings. This does not prevent the matter from becoming ridiculous at moments, however. When you get a set of real efficient passport officials to go over your booklet it is a matter of profound and mysterious import. To judge by their unsmiling faces, they adopt the attitude of first class seouras, dour and grim. One gets up against the light to verify the watermark. Another takes it from his colleague's hands, while casting a penetrating glance at your features, and proceeds to compare your physiognomy with the photo pasted on the front of the little book. Ten to one he will glance up again, startled, no doubt, by the similarity that exists after all between the photo of the disheveled refugee that the passport snapshot invariably portrays to the man in front of him. I do not know what ideas passport officials have of mankind. But they must have the notion that most of us, in our homeland, lead dissipated and worthless lives. For I have never seen one of these snapshots without the bearer looking fully like a disreputable drunk or near-imbecile. A matter of curiosity is the hieroglyphics that the officials get out of your travel booklet. But the questions they ask you in some countries are transparent enough. They want to know if you are tainted with any kind of political virus that might be dangerous to the regime in vogue in their land.

"White Man's Hell." No European can stand the climate of the lands adjoining the Red Sea. That is to say, manual labor of any kind is impossible to him. British troops stationed at Aden, for instance, are relieved every six months. This period has been found to be the limit. Native labor is practically unobtainable. Even African Negroes refuse to undergo the terrific strain of working under a sun that stands almost vertically above. But who, you may ask, works the extensive salt pans that stretch in both directions along the coast at Aden. The answer is Italians. The climatic resistance of these people is something phenomenal. Not only do men live there, but women and children from Italy form a large colony in what is sometimes called the "White Man's Hell." Such people are unbeatable. Aden is no more than a rather large collection of huts and barracks with corrugated iron roofs, with a bleak sunbaked shore in front and terrible, forbidding hills and mountains in the distance, with nowhere a single tree or a blade of green. And here Italian children walk around bareheaded!

What Society Is Wearing

A strikingly patterned blouse offers contrast to the simple wool sports ensemble worn by Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse at the races.

A concession to the new silhouette is revealed in the narrow belt worn with the jumper which accentuates the normal waistline. The rising waistline is even more important than the lengthened hemline.

Introducing a feminine touch to the hip length jacket is the wide scarf tie of matching fabric that may be knotted bow fashion, or allowed to fall gracefully the length of the coat.

For accessories, Mrs. Whitehouse has chosen a small brooch, light kid hose and one-strap kid sandals.

Mrs. Whitehouse is always numbered among the smart horse having crowd that appears each year at Victoria-Morway, England for hunting. In the same group are the Ambrose Clark, who have a cottage in this section of Great Britain and Richard Newton Jr. who makes the trip to Victoria-Morway annually.

Mint Remains Important Crop

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 13.—(UP)—Mint is now an important crop in Kern county, with three stills taking care of the production.

Although mint is no longer used in the famous mint julep form, it still has an important market. Unfavorable weather conditions at the beginning of this season affected the crop, but better conditions of the past few weeks will probably offset loss of the first cutting.

Is Your Stomach a "Gasser"?

Excessive gas in stomach and bowels doesn't necessarily mean that your food is at fault or that you have chronic dyspepsia. In most cases it results from gastric neurosis—a purely nervous condition which disturbs the functional activity of the stomach. Taking medicine to digest the food artificially is a waste of time. What you need is a remedy to correct the nervous trouble and prevent the formation of abnormal gas.

Go to your druggist and ask for a package of Baiman's Gas Tablets, which are prepared especially for this ailment. See how quickly they will relieve pent-up gas and all its distressing symptoms, any which are pain about the heart, palpitation, anxiety, shortness of breath, nervousness, sweating, heartburn and a peculiar growling "gassing" in the stomach. Genuine Baiman's Gas Tablets can be obtained at any good drug store. Price $1.

RICHFIELD CO. GETS S. P. CONTRACT

Delivery has been started by the Richfield Oil company of California on what is considered one of the most valuable fuel oil contracts for the West Coast—that of the Southern Pacific railroad for it western division out of El Paso, according to C. M. Fuller, president. The contract runs for five years, to gross at least 5,000,000 barrels, and is considered of exceptional worth from the seller's standpoint as all deliveries are made at Los Angeles into railroad owned equipment, necessitating no financial outlay whatsoever on the part of Richfield.

Fuller also announces the beginning of deliveries on a contract with the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad for fuel needs of its Western division at Spokane, Tacoma and Seattle, to gross approximately 3,000,000 barrels. Richfield is also furnishing fuel oil to the Harbor Belt Line railroad, Los Angeles, under which its needs for three years are being supplied, with the company also contracting to erect necessary storage facilities for the Belt line. While the contract is small, with an estimated gross of but 500,000 barrels, it is anticipated that if the Long Beach City connections are thrown into the Belt line system, the barrelage will materially increase.

Deliveries by Richfield to the United States Navy of 4,665,000 barrels of fuel oil at points on the Pacific Coast to June 30, 1930, are also underway, as is the furnishing of oil on a number of pulp and paper mill contracts in the northwest.

According to Fuller, with the new railroad contracts just secured, Richfield is supplying much of the needs of this class of industry on the Pacific Coast, as it is also delivering approximately 200,000 barrels of fuel a month to the Union Pacific railroad, with approximately 10,000,000 barrels yet to be delivered.

Dry Los Angeles River Catches Fire

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13.—UP.—The latest claim for distinction from this part of California is that the driest river in the world is here.

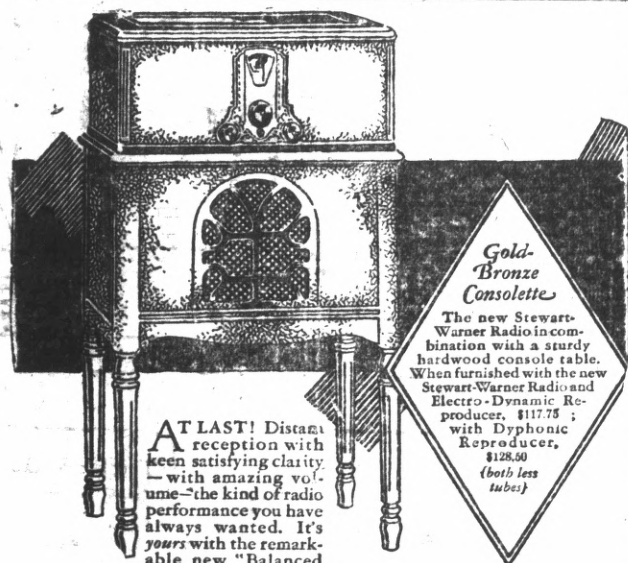

In fact the river is so dry that it caught on fire recently.

A brush fire started in the bed of the Los Angeles river, directly under a bridge. The North Hollywood fire department rushed to the scene and found it impossible to bring fire hoses to play on the flames.

With no water in the river, pick and shovel work was finally resorted to before the flames were brought under control.

MRS. PAASCH ILL

Mrs. Richard Paasch, who has been ill at the Merritt hospital in Oakland, is reported to be on the road to recovery.

REDUCTION IN U. S. TAXES LOOMS

to one-half of one per cent; on the second $4,000, from three per cent to two per cent; and on the balance, the present five per cent rate will be reduced to four per cent.

It was estimated that the total reduction would amount to approximately $160,000,000.

Announcement of the proposed cut at this time was received with surprise, in view of the expected reduction in revenue occasioned by losses in the stock market, and the rather dubious attitude taken toward the program recently by party leaders.

Meetings Held

The treasury announcement followed a day of frequent conferences between administration and federal reserve officials, at which the prolonged depression of the stock market was believed to have been the subject under discussion.

Some observers interpreted the statement as the result of these conferences, issued with the definite purpose in view of aiding in stabilizing market conditions. The proposal had been discussed with Republican and Democratic leaders of both houses of Congress prior to its announcement, and Speaker Longworth and Republican floor leader Tilson were at the treasury at the time of its issuance.

Mellon said leaders of both parties tentatively had approved his recommendations.

Plan Told

The plan is to take up a tax reduction measure in the house, where such legislation must originate, early in the regular session. Such a measure could be enacted speedily.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the Senate finance committee, who was present at the conference with Mellon, said he assumed the Senate could take the measure up after the tariff bill, which probably will be in the early part of next year.

Just why the job ever was the commissioner's was not explained by Cooper in his letter.

Slippers Handicap Sheriff In Race

CHICO, Nov. 13.—UP.—Sheriff Carl Hurd was getting along nicely chasing an automobile slipper until his bedroom slippers dropped off—and then the thief won the race, hands down.

Hurd had been tipped off by an oil station proprietor that a car which he suspected was stolen had just driven into his station. Hurd arrested the man all right, but when he made a break it was successful as Hurd's slippers provided a sufficient handicap for the thief.

No Subsidized Press! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE assures the freedom of the press—Public opinion has been freed from the tyranny which denied it the right to pass judgment on public questions.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

ANNUAL C. OF C. MEETING NOV. 21

Thursday, Nov. 21, was set as the date of the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, with which will be continued the official welcome to railway station KFWM, according to decision by the board of directors yesterday.

The annual meeting will there be postponed one day in order to bring about the full cooperation of KFWM in broadcasting the entire program between 8 and 10 o'clock. Remote control will be established between the Hotel Carquinez, scene of the dinner, and the station's new broadcasting plant in East Shore Park by which Richmond's story will be sent out to the listeners of the entire western country.

This will be the first time a program has ever been broadcast from Richmond.

Program Plans

Plans for the program outlined by the directors call for P. M. Sanford, chairman, to open the meeting and conduct the business session. Joseph F. Brooks will act as toastmaster. Mayor A. L. Paulsen will deliver the official welcome to radio KFWM. O. Allison, representing the station, will respond. Fred D. Parr will sum up recent developments in Richmond.

The address of the evening will be delivered by Frederick J. Koster, former president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, former vice-president of the United States Chamber of Commerce and now vice-president of the California State Chamber of Commerce. Koster will discuss industrial development in the western area.

Will Nominate

The principal business of the meeting will be the nomination of directors of the Chamber of Commerce to succeed the seven whose terms expire at the end of this year. These are E. B. Bull, T. H. DeLap, M. A. Hays, W. T. Helms, Joseph F. Brooks, O. R. Ludewig, and James A. McVittie. If the incumbents consent to run again, at least seven new names must be proposed at the annual meeting, as the by-laws call for balloting on twice the number to be elected.

The election will be held by mail and the votes canvassed on the third Wednesday in December. The new directors will take office at the first meeting of the board in January.

The directors voted to visit the new Richmond hospital following the adjournment of the next meeting, two weeks hence.

CHARTER GROUP ANSWERS ADDRESS BY MAYOR PAULSEN

receives an additional $50 per month as mayor for expenses. "The reference to the bald head was probably meant for me—and although I have never criticized the city council or an individual member I would say to Mayor Paulsen that hair and brains don't grow in the same place."

Lowery then introduced Windrem as the next speaker who continued the attack on the speech made by Paulsen. Windrem said in part:

"I am serving notice that before we are finished with Mayor Paulsen we'll burn the grass around his meadows so that he will be glad to hasten back to Trinity county from whence he came."

"We have finally smoked these people out of their holes and they realize at last that we are an organization that they cannot ignore by a thunder of silence."

Acting As Megaphone

"I can't exactly understand this outburst of Mayor Paulsen unless he is acting as a megaphone for more intelligent persons—or else escaped from the pen when they weren't looking."

"Mayor Paulsen's accusations that our figures are incorrect can only be true if the auditor's reports are wrong—we have a right to depend on those figures."

"I challenge Mayor Paulsen or any of the people that stand behind him to prove that I have made an error in any of the figures I have presented."

Windrem quoted a group of figures comparing Berkeley and Richmond assessment and taxes and stated that it was impossible to find how anyone could compare the figures and contend that the cost of Richmond was not much greater than that of her neighbor.

Continuing, Windrem stated in part:

"During our meetings here we have dealt with nothing but facts and figures. We are told by our Mayor that our figures are not correct. These figures were obtained from auditors' reports. If these figures are not correct we would like to have Mayor Paulsen dispute them in the press."

"We do not oppose Fred D. Parr as an individual owning a lease—but we do oppose the terms and duration of that lease. Mayor Paulsen says the lease is a 'good thing'—I agree with him it is a 'good thing' for some people, but not for the taxpayers."

Figures Quoted

Lowery then quoted a group of figures contained in the Parr lease for maintenance and overhead which he characterized as an unjust burden upon the citizens of the city. Lowery particularly attacked what was termed as the advertising fund; chamber of commerce dues; donations; auto expenses and general overhead of the office.

Lowery invited Mayor Paulsen and every councilman in the city to come to the session of the charter league and discuss facts and figures with the group.

A statement made by Parr in the press on Aug. 16, 1927 was read by Lowery in which he stated that "the city of Richmond need not expect any direct returns from the waterfront for many years to come." "We can read between the lines," and know what that means," Lowery stated.

Political Aspirations

Continuing he said in part:

"As for political aspirations which have been charged to me, I do not seek any political office. I wouldn't have a job of any kind with our present form of city government. I do not want to be ruined. I absolutely would not serve under the present city charter which has been obsolete for the last 20 years. This does not mean that I would not serve if the people of this city demanded it under proper conditions."

"We have never criticized the sailing factory as it has been charged. We did inject a little comedy into our previous meeting which may have been misunderstood by some. Any industry to fill up some of our 1200 vacant homes will be welcome. We need work for our unemployed."

Muzzle Charged

"I thought the days of the Kaiser and the Czar were a thing of the past but the apparent attempt to muzzle this organization would not indicate that."

"I have no axe to grind and if Mayor Paulsen can point out or prove one incorrect statement I will be glad to correct it in any way that may be deemed fit."

"We would like to have Mayor Paulsen appear before this body and give us some of the council problems as he was quoted as saying to the business women."

Free Speech

"We are still American citizens and have a right to free speech and to voice our opinions on the street or any other place we may see fit."

"Mayor Paulsen's statement that he only received $50 a month for his efforts I think is slightly erroneous. If I am not mistaken he

"I have lived in Richmond for 27 years and during that time have held two public offices. Both of these were thrust upon me against my wishes."

Virtue For Some

"What I can't understand is what Mayor Paulsen considers a virtue for himself should be such an atrocious crime for anyone else. I am not seeking any public office and anyone that says I am is a liar."

"If the city council wants to know what our grievances are, I can give them some. Our greatest grievance is against the city council itself."

"We believe that the city council as a whole is incompetent."

"We believe that the city council should get out."

"We believe that the city council has caused 600 vacant houses in the past three years."

"We believe that the city council is extravagant."

"And the greatest crime we charge against the city council is that they have given away the waterfront to the ground."

Many Uninformed

"I personally believe that many of our city officials are uninformed and are not to be trusted. Some of them seem to think that they are royal and preside over the city in the manner of a king."

"If it can be proven that I am wrong, I will be glad to make a public retraction and correction."

"Most of the city council who voted for the Parr lease would be glad to rescind that vote and get out of it, and I know what I am talking about."

Sanders Speaks

Sanders in his talk stressed the right of free speech, and the rights of citizens to meet and discuss the manner in which officials are running the city government. Some public officials soon get to the point where they think they are above criticism and then is the time to watch out, Sanders contended.

He urged the group to extend an invitation to the city officials to meet with the charter league and discuss all city difficulties.

Ball Resolution

Sanders touched on the fact that the city council of Richmond and the Richmond chamber of commerce were the only organizations in the bay regions to oppose the entry of the Great Northern railroad into the state.

He pointed out that the present charter was drawn 21 years ago when the city had a population of only about 3,500. They could not foresee the city of today, and the city has far outgrown the present charter, Sanders contended.

"There are some standpatters who will never want to change anything, and these are the worst opponents to any forward movement of this nature," Sanders stated in concluding his address.

Cool Heads Urged

Drummond, in his address, urged the members of the group not to get angry with misstatements made about them, but should face all matters squarely.

Drummond said in part:

"We have never objected to any industry, but we should watch the type of employes that industries brought in here might attract."

"I have been watching our city government for some years and it is beginning to look as though we have taxation without representation."

"We have too many harbor bonds, and need other things that will do more for the development of our city."

"This organization is not a maternity hospital for politicians, and I believe the charges by Mayor Paulsen are unjust."

Lowery in closing the session urged all members to be on their toes and to watch other movements. He reported that he had uncovered reports that a movement was on foot for a three ward system with freeholders which would defeat the aims of the organization.

The next session of the league is to be held at Memorial hall on Nov. 27.

returns on it. In addition, we are assessed $25,000 a year for maintenance and have to pay for all the improvements. At the end of 50 years we may get the property back.

"Three years ago we were promised the Ford factory. But Ford is not the only one seeking coast lines. Oakland obtained 125 new factories in the last year. Oakland has obtained 71 others so far this year in addition to 350 new business houses."

"Richmond has not obtained any new plants except two canneries, and I want to see those constructed before I will really believe it."

New Structure Sought

"We have been accused of tearing down. Well, you know when a building's foundation becomes rotten, it is best to tear the whole thing down before you add any more to it. What we have to do in Richmond is to build an entirely new structure from the ground up."

"We need an entirely new city government. Our present one is rotten to the core and needs cleaning out."

"I resent the statement of Mayor Paulsen in referring to some of our good people in this organization as blatherskites. Why many of our members were paying taxes here when he was running with the Indians in Trinity county."

"We are honestly and earnestly trying to restore the government to the people of this city and to build our city up in such a way that it will be worth while to live in."

RAIL HEARING OPENED IN S. F.

plained that he favored the building of the Great Northern-Western Pacific connecting line despite the fact that he owned much stock in the Southern Pacific. The line will be beneficial to all, James said.

W. T. Kenney of Great Northern, vice president in charge of traffic, said construction of the line would result in establishment of through freight rates with benefit to all concerned.

Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern, was the third and concluding witness of the day.

Benefits Told

The hearing was told by Budd that either national or local benefit considered separately would justify the expenditure of $13,000,000. The new connecting link would be worth while, Budd contended, even though it connected independent and disconnected systems instead of providing a through railroad system.

James, in his testimony, went back to ancient railroad history, recalling the days of a generation ago when James J. Hill, founder of the Great Northern, sought to construct a railroad system across the plains to the Pacific Northwest and from the Pacific Northwest south to California. In those days Hill was opposed by E. H. Harriman, then the dominating factor in the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific.

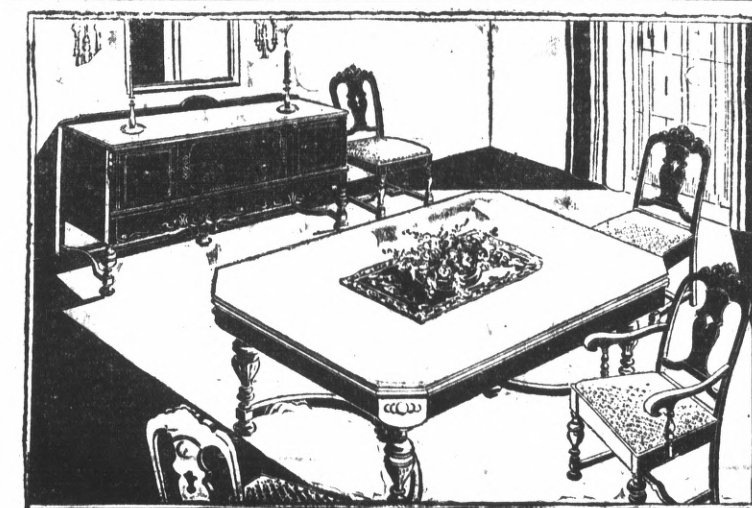

James told the commission that Hill's dream of entering California had never been abandoned and that the present application was with a view of making it come true.
